NORFOLK LEARNING DISABILITY PARTNERSHIP

Lee gave an update about the last Learning Disability Partnership Board meeting

Lee spoke about how the Learning Disability Plan was made.

He then asked 4 questions to get feedback on how more people can be involved in rewriting the new plan in 2028.

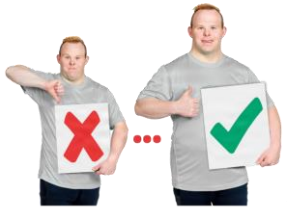

Activity

Thinking about renewing The Norfolk Learning Disability Plan

1. Was the way we did things good?

2. What could we do better?

3. Would you like to be involved? If so, How could we involve you?

4. Is there any other ideas of how we can reach as many learning-disabled people and carers as possible?

Involve more day services and list which ones that were involved

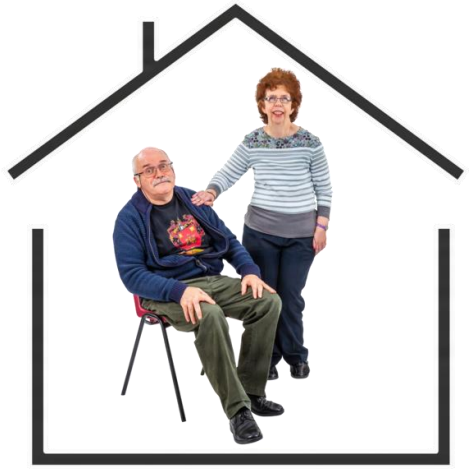

Reach out other ways not just through day services

Go to different arears around Norfolk for example: Attleborough, Wisbech

What could we do better? (2)

Try reaching out to learning disabled people that cannot leave their house

Visit community centres in different areas

Yes, attending the partnership board meetings

It's good to involve people by having in person meetings and online meetings

Is there any other ideas of how we can reach as many learning-disabled people and carers as possible? (1)

Spread the word by talking to people I know

Hold open discussions

Make leaflets, put them in shops, cafes, libraries

Is there any other ideas of how we can reach as many learning-disabled people and carers as possible? (2)

Make an easy read booklet with questions and feedback sections

Carry on locality meetings

Hold an activity day to promote

Is there any other ideas of how we can reach as many learning-disabled people and carers as possible? (3)

Use social media like Facebook or Instagram

Hold hybrid meetings but keep the option of in person meetings and online meetings as well

Any Other Business

There was no other business
